How is a customer informed about status updates on their submitted issue?

What causes you the highest level of anxiety during daily support operations?

What is your opinion regarding the current ticket submission process required from users?

Which analytical capability must be included as a primary goal in the manager dashboard?

